NOTES

The reservation of a business entity name that includes a restricted word (e.g., “bank” or “engineering”) does not ensure that the name will be accepted for use by the business entity for which it is intended. The determination of whether a reserved name can be used will be made when the business entity’s organizational instrument (e.g., articles of incorporation) is presented for filing. For more information regarding restricted words in a business entity name, see Frequently Asked Questions regarding Business Entity Names at www.scc.virginia.gov/clk/befaq/name.aspx.

The owner of a reserved business entity name may transfer the reservation to another person by submitting to the Clerk’s Office a written notice that sets forth the reserved name and the name and address of the person to whom the reserved name is to be transferred, accompanied by a check in the amount of $10.00 made payable to State Corporation Commission. The notice must be signed by the owner or by the owner’s authorized agent.
